TOURIST BOARD

STYLISH ACCOMMODATION WITH A FAMILY ATMOSPHERE

Central Bohemia Region

Dear readers,

The tourist season is here, so come and get to know Central Bohemia. Our châteaux and castles have tempting new guided routes, our museums boast unusual exhibits and our region, enveloping the capital, has plenty of novel sports options for you to try. You'll find tips on our region, and how to enjoyably spend your time, in our brochures as well as our Facebook and web pages.

For all those who like to explore at length, for whom a same-day return is not 'just the ticket' we bring a selection of places to stay. Don't be surprised these aren't hotels for large groups; in this brochure we've kept things family-focused, so to speak. It's not just that some places have 'family' in their names, we are talking about the cosier guesthouses, homesteads, farms and hotels that have flourished as family businesses, under the care of couples or groups of friends who have committed to making their guests feel at home.

Our brochure introduces you to guesthouses with splendid views, farms dedicated to ecology and sustainability – from energy use to own meat production, places to 'drift away' on horseback, or to sample rural life. You may often find yourself casting your mind back to the summer days you spent at grandma's cottage, such is the homely mood these hospitality entrepreneurs have taken pains to achieve.

We wish you a relaxing stay in Central Bohemia, and your many happy return visits at any time of year.

PARKHOTEL PRŮHONICE PRAHA – PRŮHONICE

www.parkhotel-pruhonice.cz

Parkhotel Průhonice amiably promises its guests a “home from home”. You can indeed find that here, especially if you make use of the location; Průhonice is just outside Prague and right next to Průhonice Park, both on the UNESCO world cultural heritage list. Parkhotel Průhonice has 25 comfortable furnished double rooms ready for guests (even single person bookings). 14 of these rooms are duplex with an additional bed option. The head of this Průhonice establishment, Daniel Sedláček, maintains that time spent at the table is never wasted. There’s a lot of truth in that, but nobody ever seems in a hurry to leave their table at the local hotel restaurant Tarouca. There are plenty of other services and experiences, such as a Thai massage or a workout in the gym; bookings taken via the hotel reception. Your only quandary will be how best to split your time between relaxation and active leisure.

THINGS TO DO

Great for meetings and events, right by the capital – congress services in four lounges for 5-80 people.

Double rooms (DBL) can be ordered as ‘single use’-(SGL); from 1350 CZK per person per night in single use and from 800 CZK per person per night in double use; additional trundle bed 400 CZK

PENZION V POLÍCH MALÉ ČIČOVICE

www.penzionvpolich.cz

To go through the gates into the 'In the fields' guesthouse is a bit like taking a trip into one of Josef Lada fairy-tale illustrations. As you sit there on a wooden bench seat under the covered terrace (whether to get out of the scorching sun or wrapped in a cosy blanket) you exchange a word or two when asked what you would like for your comfort, even by the proprietor, Mr Mráz, offering to bring you some home-made lemonade. The guesthouse really is set among fields, but also in the estate grounds of a former Jesuit farm building from the 18th century. A sensitive reconstruction has given the building a rustic air inside and out, and despite everything being thought out to the last detail, nothing about it feels contrived. Maybe it's because the place bears the seal not only of construction machinery and architects, but of the proprietor's own handiwork. Rustic is just the word to sum up the local cuisine, too. The chefs have taken their cue from Czech, Moravian, but also Italian and French countryside. In practice, one day it's a suckling pig spit-roasted out on the outdoor terrace, the next a lunch of duck foie gras. The outdoor terrace caters for up to 80 people, while in the winter, the two heated rooms inside provide for 60. If you like staying up a little late V Polích has an ethereal sight to offer, – the Baroque octagonal Chapel of the Holy Cross, in Malé Čičovice, floodlit by night makes the guesthouse panorama quite magical.

STATEK VLETICE VLETICE

Veronika and David Mühlbach feel right at home in the Toulava region. Vletice, and their small stone farmhouse full of rural well-being are close to their hearts.

A spacious courtyard with a stone pool, a wedding meadow with its three-hundred-year oaks, pergola seating, a barn with wooden beams and tables for banquets and refreshments ...

If natural materials and colours are your thing – here, at Vletice farm you'll find not a stone, a twig or a blade of grass out of place. This place appeals greatly as a venue for wedding ceremonies, and the farmhouse is rented out exclusively to weddings 23 weekends a year. You can invite family and friends aplenty to your wedding at Vletice, as the proprietors themselves did a few years ago, when they said their "I do" outdoors, under the crown of the old oak tree. The barn is a prime utility space, capacious enough for 300 people; while the stables can cater for some 40 guests, year-round. The dining room and bar can serve up to 70 people at a time. Although the farm is devoted to newlywed romance, sports or corporate events or birthday parties are a growing trend. Toulava is a perfect region for cycle tours, and cyclists are welcome at the Vletice farm.

They provide a lockable bike store, and other facilities to make farm hospitality all the more enjoyable.

THINGS TO DO

FARMA MICHAEL NEDVĚZ

www.farmamichael.cz

It isn't as hard as you might think to enter a parallel world and timezone of medieval farms, stone floors, wooden beams, of meadows and fields that reward human care with a wealth of self-sufficiency, independence and freedom. Adding to it all, a view out of your window overlooking a herd of horses or cattle chewing the cud, a beaten path to the fishery pond. Welcome to the realm of the ancient Celts, and today's sanctuary for all who would escape the city. Welcome to the Nedvězí stronghold and Farma Michael. The proprietor, Michal Štěpánek, took it into his head in the 1990s that managing a homestead is just as creative as his beloved photography, and the fact that the Romanesque-Gothic building he'd taken a shine to would need more than just a little restoration work did not put him off the hard work of farming. Today, you can indulge in some real homestead luxury – stylish rooms in rustic farm buildings, a banquet hall and riding hall all set for wedding days, or corporate events. And behind all the luxury at one of the most beautiful farms in the Czech Republic is a real working farm. They keep livestock here, complete with a herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle reared exclusively for meat, acclaimed as the highest quality beef to be found anywhere, not least in Bohemia.

THINGS TO DO

Horses kept here are Paint Horse and Hanover breed, offering rides, lessons, but also shorter races, as well as hippotherapy rides under the supervision of a physiotherapist. Suitable for corporate clients, family weddings. Outdoor events capacity for up to 1000 participants.

PENZION VENKOFF ČEŘENICE – SÁZAVA

www.venkoff.cz

They swapped the city for the countryside (“venkov” in Czech) and are very satisfied. Not that they have anything against the capital, where they still do business, but the countryside is a breath of fresh air. They share their love of the countryside with their guests. The couple, Martin and Markéta Štangl are much in evidence here, and once you get to speak to them you understand why their Venkoff is “IN”. It’s just the place for all those needing to switch off, relax and enjoy a bit of peace and calm, clean comfort, without civilization meddling. This family-run guesthouse is situated just along a cycle path less than 6 kilometres from Sázava, the town above the same-named river valley. They’ll put you up in triple or double rooms with en-suite bathrooms, invite you to a common room with a fireplace and let you have use of a kitchen with all the amenities. You can prepare your own evening barbecue out in the large garden, say. But if you want to take advantage of the full service, ranging from supplying the meat to doing the grilling, there’s fine food to enjoy. Neither Martin nor Markéta skimp on that, they’ve both been active in catering for several years, and Martin is one of the founders of a famed restaurant and bakery in Prague’s Karlín district. They say that anything thrown out of a kitchen shows the cook’s lack of imagination. Thrift, not stinginess, is very much a part of rural, contented living.

AKTIVITY

An outdoor firepit, barbecue, a large garden to play and have fun in. A playground with swings, a slide and a sandpit. Summer-season inflatable pool.

HOTEL NA FARMĚ CHOŤOVICE

www.hotelnafarme.cz

The Hotel Na Farmě 'Farm Hotel' and Maso Na Farmě 'Farm Meat' establishments go hand to form a complete farming cycle, more commonly found in the Italian or Austrian countryside. Planting – growing – reaping – utilizing the crops for eco-energy in their own biogas station – and as pig, cow and calf feed. They provide great meat for you to taste at the Hotel Na Farmě. Co-owner and director Ondřej Sulženko adds that it is precisely this self-sufficiency that won them the top prize for ecology in the EON Energy Globe competition, business category. His concept – a family business combining energy, gastronomy and hospitality gives to ECO epithet practical meaning. The family firm operates on 600 hectares, keeps 300 Holstein cows and 1800 pigs. The good news is that the Central Bohemian countryside initiative keeps to high standards, as proven in Choťovice. The hotel offers accommodation in 20 rooms with a total capacity of 45 people (plus 2 beds for children). Guests with children tend to prefer the suite, with its kids' room complete with a slide. The 4* hotel brings the benefits of high-class catering. They cook using their own ingredients, and in the summer, regular culinary events feature spit-roasted suckling pig as well as barbecue grilled steaks or burgers. The local lunchtime menu dishes, such as pork roasts, are a real treat.

THINGS TO DO

For business events and teambuilding, the hotel and affiliated Farma Na Zážitky 'Experiential Farm' offers a milking trainer, tractor trailer riding, wheeling manure against the clock down a slalom course, or a guided tour of the nearby church and charnel house; or of the biogas station.

HOMUTŮV STATEK SEDLÉC U MŠENA

www.homutuvstatek.cz

What happens when an old listed homestead takes the fancy of an architect? Many wonderful things; as crumbling walls, old sideboards and damaged floors turn into a retreat from our frenzied millennium. The Homutův statek co-owner, Petr Lorenc, has managed to revive bygone times; sleeping behind the tiled stove, waking up to hot cocoa and salted bread. It is in our nature to look for some 'joie-de-vivre', and here in the Kokořínsko environs you can certainly find it. Cleanliness and simplicity underpin rural aesthetics and are more than at home here. Comfortable beds and spacious rooms and suites are a joy for the whole family, and even grandparents, as well as quality cooking based around honest -to-goodness Czech meals and healthy breakfasts and snacks. The farmhouse does not have a classic public-access restaurant, but cooks for guests in true granny style – meatloaf with potatoes, sourdough fruit dumplings, goulash and kolaches baked ready for the afternoon. The wines here are from the nearby town of Mělník, with homemade ciders. The guesthouse has nine rooms, with a choice of doubles, and two-floor of family suites. The farm also has a romantic suite with a free-standing bath tub. You can take an early morning stroll with your coffee around the enveloping garden, at the back of which the chef grows veg and herbs. With allergy sufferers in mind, pets are not allowed. The place is run by the proprietor Kateřina Lorencová Holanová – with warmth and kindness.

PENZION NA KRÁSNÉ VYHLÍDCE BOSEŇ

www.nakrasnevyhlidce.cz

The Český ráj 'Bohemian Paradise' region has plenty of wonderful lookout points, but only one place takes its name after one such. It's no wonder that the exceptional name extends to the local guesthouse and restaurant run by Jaroslava and Lukáš Havránek. The restaurants and the popular seasonal refreshments kiosk for visitors have been operating for several years, but as of April 2018 you can stay here, too. Everyone loves the views of Český ráj out of the windows, or better still, from the outdoor terrace. The prospect is also an ideal base for an 'expedition' to the Drábské světničky realm of rock formations. You can start with a hearty breakfast, put your hiking boots on and go roving around the rock citadel. Once back at Krásná Vyhlídka we recommend the local calorific delicacy – crispy pork in lard baked into crusty bread with onions, as a starter to a restful dinner in a homely environment, sat by the crackling tiled stove. Here, in one of the most beautiful places in Český ráj, under the care of Mr and Mrs Havránek, weddings, family celebrations or business events find their setting. The venue is an all-weather affair – the summer terrace takes up to 60, the restaurant is ideal for up to 80 persons. Parking is available, space for cars and cyclists provided just below the building. The entire guesthouse is non-smoking.

THINGS TO DO

A great base for exploring the Bohemian Paradise, or a vantage point for relaxing with a book on the terrace. In good weather you can see Ještěd, Jizerské hory and the Krkonoše mountains.

DVŮR HOFFMEISTER VELKÉ ČIČOVICE

www.dvur-hoffmeister.cz

The flowing manes of horses, buildings built of the same stone as nearby Okoř castle and family togetherness have a common denominator – the Hoffmeister family line. The third generation of the Hoffmeister family is now taking care of the homestead near Prague, offering great cuisine, relaxation, a chance to see the drawings of the famous artist and cartoonist Adolf Hoffmeister, and proof, if needed, that the world is best viewed on horseback.

The revival of the Hoffmeister homestead is the work of Martin Hoffmeister, film director, member of the 'Knights of Gusto brotherhood' (knights without swords, but with a well-honed taste for wine and winemaking), who also brought his father's unique set of artworks here. The Hoffmeister homestead is a true family venture – the restaurant is run by Martin's daughter Ada, the stables, horse training and riding for children and owners with horses here is run by his daughter Ria, and much of the interior bears the hallmark of his partner Monica Vágnerová. For example, take her idea to turn the old barn for horse drawn carriages into a grill with outdoor seating, for riders and house guests. At the Hoffmeisters you can stay in the original period rooms, or up under the eaves directly above the stables.

THINGS TO DO

The Hoffmeister homestead is a sports-oriented stables focused mostly on show jumping and beginner training. Their focus on equestrian sport goes back more than twenty years. You can make this your setting for celebrations, weddings or corporate events.
